

DREAM MEAL

→ I HAD my dream meal last Valentine's Day with the boyfriend. I came home after work to find my little unit covered top to bottom with yellow Post-it notes saying: "I love you". It looked like Big Bird had exploded in my living room. He then served me a three-course meal he had cooked himself — baby octopus sauteed with coriander, lime and chilli, followed by lobster and salad, and finished with strawberries and chocolate. The grand finale was a full body massage. He's been in the good books ever since. I don't know how he'll top it next year.

Favourite cafe

→ Definitely the New Farm Deli. The food is to die for, you want to eat everything. They have the yummiest breakfasts, pancakes . . . you don't need to eat for a week afterwards. I once asked a waiter why the meals were so huge and she said: "You know Italians, they all think we're all starving people."

Favourite restaurant

→ Would have to be the Lure at the Coro in Milton. I went there two weeks ago with some friends and we were the last to leave. We had the set menu, five courses and couldn't pick a favourite one, they were all so delicious. Felt like we were eating for hours — and the service was amazing.

Favourite bar

→ The Breakfast Creek Hotel. Love the steak and the atmosphere.
